

MDC's Museum of Art + Design to display works from its collection

A Roy Lichtenstein silkscreen on paper is among works from the collection of Miami Dade College's Museum of Art + Design included in the museum's first long-format installation. Adam Reich

By: Galena Mosovich

July 24, 2015 - Coming up on South Florida's visual arts scene, tour a new installation at Miami's Museum of Art + Design with the executive director, check out a photography exhibition focused on the Black Panthers, welcome another Miami artists' collective space, and go to a workshop that could lead to a grant.

- The Miami Dade College's Museum of Art + Design announces the opening of Recent Acquisitions + Highlights, its first long-format installation containing selections from the school's art collection. Join executive director and chief curator Jeremy Mikolajczak from 1 to 2 p.m. Aug. 2 for an in-depth tour of the collection and the unveiling of two newly renovated permanent galleries, which include works by Alex Katz, Roy Lichtenstein, Pat Lipsky, Enrique Martínez Celaya, Ana Mendieta, Arnold Mesches, Louise Nevelson, Andres Serrano, Frank Stella, Andy Warhol and William Wegman. Attendees will be invited to a cafecito reception after the tour, taking place in the lobby inside the historic Freedom Tower. This event is free and open to the public with RSVP to museum@mdc.edu. Recent Acquisitions + Highlights will remain on view on an ongoing basis, and educational programs, lectures and workshops will be announced on occasion. The museum is at 600 Biscayne Blvd., Miami. Call 305-237-7700 or visit www.mdcmod.org.